VOLUME II No. 48

Wednesday, September 24, 1980

It was smiles all round Monday morning as Reeve Sinc Nesbitt and MPP John Eakins turned the sod to mark the start of construction of the new curling rink and recreation complex in Minden. On hand to cheer on the diggers were, from the left, chairman of the building committee, Godfrey Saunders, club president Jim Garbutt and township councillors Lyle McKnight, Doug Pritchard and Len Lonsberry.

Chamber draws criticism over questionnaire

The Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce drew extensive criticism from members of county council last week when a proposal to question candidates for the upcoming municipal election was put forward.

Councillors became irate when Fred Baum, council's representative on the Chamber, outlined a resolution approved by the Chamber's board of directors Tuesday night. It referred to a project the Chamber would undertake in collecting the political beliefs and motives of candidates in Haliburton County, the results of which could be printed in the newspapers.

The resolution read that "the Chamber of Commerce take a positive but unbiased role in the municipal election process by developing an all-candidate questionnaire that would be designed to encourage the electorate to take their voting responsibilities seriously by assisting them in assessing the qualifications and policies of the candidates." Notes in the minutes of the meeting said that "discussion made it clear that the Chamber feels that it does not have a role in politics, but merely in the election process."

But the motives of the Chamber in carrying out the questionnaire met with considerable discussion from council. Councillor Jim Harrison felt "the Chamber has a role to play, and they should stay doing what they're doing. They shouldn't be getting into something like this."

Councillor Murray Fearrey apparently expressed the sentiment of the whole council, as he was met with unanimous consent and applause. Chamber members, he felt, should not use the Chamber "as a stepping stone into municipal politics."

Fearrey cited the election of two years ago as the basis of his argument, when three members of the Chamber of Commerce ran for positions on school board and council in Dysart et al. He felt the Chamber was using its power to further some members' political ambitions.

But Chamber secretary Bob Stinson, one of the members who ran for school board two years ago, said Thursday that he was "surprised" that council would react to the proposal so negatively. The aim of the questionnaire, he said, would be to encourage voters to go to the polls by giving them details of the people who were running. The idea came from the Ottawa Board of Trade, who have run similar questionnaires before.

Stinson said he is not running for any post in the municipal elections this year.

A decision on what the Chamber will do with the proposal now, after meeting with so much opposition from County council, said Stinson, likely will be reached at the Chamber director's next meeting in October.

Fearrey said after the council meeting that he felt it was "the role of the newspapers" to present candidates' information to the general public.

Terry Fox fund tops $2,442.00

The Victoria-Haliburton Counties' fund for Terry Fox and cancer research has topped $2,442.

The money was raised in a three week campaign co-ordinated by Wally Stender of Kinmount and representatives in communities throughout the area. The funds will be forwarded to the Canadian Cancer Society to assist research into the disease.

The fund was started after Terry Fox, who lost a leg to cancer, was forced to cancel his cross Canada Marathon of Hope. The local campaign was one of many across the country which sprang up in recognition of the determination of the young runner.

A complete list of those individuals and firms which supported the local campaign is listed below. Organizers have formally stopped accepting donations however, those wishing to make contributions to the campaign can do so by taking the money to the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce in Minden.

Donations were received from the following sources:

Township wants to buy Kinmount rail station

The township of Somerville has asked the Canadian National Railways to sell to the municipality the train station presently located in Kinmount. The request, with the suggested price of $1, was made at the September 2 meeting of the council.

The offer to purchase follows on the heels of notification from the Canadian Transport Commission that CN has been given permission to abandon the operation of the station. The council had enquired several years ago about the building and had been informed by CN that the property would be offered first to Parks Canada and then, if refused by the federal agency, to the local municipality. "We are really just letting CN know we are still interested in the building," Somerville clerk-treasurer Mike McBride commented.

The clerk noted that Victoria-Haliburton MP Bill Scott had been looking into the matter as well. Scott's staff reported to the township that there appeared to be a good chance the community will be able to purchase the wood frame structure, "at a nominal amount". The amount was not revealed.

McBride said the council has no specific plans for the building at the moment. "Several years ago a local historical group expressed an interest in the building, but we haven't heard from them recently," he said. McBride explained that a copy of the letter to the CN had been sent to the historical group.

"The building is looking pretty dirty inside, since it hasn't been used for a number of years," the clerk-treasurer stated. He also pointed out

FROM THE CHAMBER

By Bob Stinson

The Chamber's annual meeting, always one of the social highlights of the year has belatedly been finalized. This year Wig-A-Mog will host the event which features a reception from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m., dinner at 7:30 and following the speeches and presentations, dancing 'til midnight. We are hoping to have a very special guest speaker with us this year and the announcement on that will be made the moment it is confirmed. Tickets are available now through the Chamber office or one of our directors. This event is usually sold out so don't leave it to the last minute.

The Board of Directors at their last meeting decided on worthy recipients for both the Highlander of the Year and Honorary Membership and thank all of those who submitted suggestions. We are sure when the awards are made you will agree with the decisions.

The strain of business pressures has forced a number of our board members to withdraw and we are still seeking willing candidates to serve on the Chamber's Board of Directors. The rewards are not high in terms of tangible gains, but there is a great deal of satisfaction in knowing you have contributed to the economic future of the community in which you make your living.

In larger urban areas it is considered a corporate responsibility by larger companies to have their executives participate. Since we lack that corporate presence here in the Highlands we must rely on your own sense of responsibility. Call the office, or one of our present directors and let's talk it over.

Present members of the board are President John Hogg of Mr. Fogg's, Vice President Jim McLean of Air Haliburton, & Past President Dennis Waymouth of Silver Springs. Directors include Barbara Bolin, Sir Sanford Fleming College; Paulette Blake, Paulette's Antiques and Gifts; Jack Brezina, The Times; Dave Chatfield, Private Member; Tim Casey, Shamrock Drillers; Rhonda Elstone, Elstone Construction; Bruce Henry, Halimar Resort; Ann Lee, Silver Eagle Cottages; James Orr, Sir Sam's Inn; and Keith Stephenson, Haliburton Highlands Golf Club.

Low interest money

Some of the banks are now offering a new way of financing called "Small Business Development Bonds". The participating bank will offer financing in the form of a five-year-bond at interest considerably below prime rate. The catch is, since it is a bond, you cannot claim the cost of interest as a business expense while on the other hand the loaning institution avoids tax on the income. Depending on the profit picture of the borrowing firm the arrangement is made in a tourist establishment it may further qualify for the Ministry of Industry and Tourism's T.R.I.P. program which can provide an interest subsidy of up to 5% for a limited time.

For more specific information contact your bank manager — and if he can't offer any information maybe another bank can.

Resort expansion

Two of our major resorts are getting ready to undergo major expansions this fall and winter. At Wig-A-Mog Inn ground will be broken this week to begin construction of an indoor swimming pool and convention facilities. Art Ward has a scale model of the project which he says he will proudly exhibit to any who are interested at the Chamber's annual meeting.

The PineStone Inn is continually building and expanding and are currently having a very brief recess after completing the new wing at the west end of their complex. Wayne McGillvray tells us that the next stage to get underway shortly involves replacing the present golf pro shop with a licenced club house which will include a snackbar, lounge, locker rooms and squash courts.

Hospitality Inn on South Lake is now owned solely by Bob and Joan Levesque and they are planning to winterize a major portion of the facilities. Tom and Melanie Moffatt who have sold their interests in the resort are now building a new home in Minden.

Maple Sands Resort on Maple Lake will be undergoing many changes this year in order to winterize and provide licenced facilities. The new Innkeeper, Curtis Eastmure, will now be on the property year round and has been very well received by the resorts' many guests. Brenda and Curtis just celebrated their first anniversary incidentally and we wish them many more in the Highlands.

While the world preaches recession the tourist industry has clearly announced, "We do not wish to participate!"

Glaziers find ready market for their product in Minden

Some people consider it a fragile world that Tom Gough and Merv Gibson inhabit.

But for them, it's a world of strength that has grown and prospered since they moved to Minden.

Tom and his partner Merv are owners of G Glass located on the Bobcaygeon Road just north of the downtown area. From their shop they provide services to anyone requiring glass and mirrors of all types and sizes.

"One of our strengths," Tom comments, "is our flexibility. We are able to provide glass for frames of odd sizes and shapes. This is important in an area where older homes may not have windows that are considered 'standard' today."

The two are from Parry Sound where they operated a similar business. They decided to look for 'greener pastures' and literally stuck a pin in a map to decide where they would move. Minden was on the end of that pin and after they visited the community and considered the potential for a glass outlet here, they decided to relocate. Tom started the operation this March with the store being opened in late spring. Merv, who was travelling back and forth between Parry Sound and here, has now taken up permanent residence in Minden.

The pin point system of deciding where to move appears to have paid off for Tom and Merv. They now have five employees working out of the Minden store and are servicing customers in all parts of Ontario, including the competitive Toronto market.

Their product can be a sharp and dangerous one as the scars and stitch marks on their hands indicate. They have respect for the glass as they handle the huge sheets that arrive at the shop, but they also handle them with the dexterity and confidence that indicates years of working with the material.

"Glass is a living product," Tom points out. "The molecules that make up glass are constantly in motion." He notes that if large sheets of glass are left standing on edge for a long period of time the pane will begin to sag, taking on the shape of the position it is being held in. Likewise glass will flow if left in one position for too long. "It might not be noticeable to the human eye, but if it left standing for too long, it will actually be thicker at the down side," Tom noted.

It is this 'living' quality which enables glass to be cut with the small scoring wheel. The wheel does not actually cut through the glass, although it does leave a small

Touchy

The members of the county's municipal councils appear to be getting a bit touchy as the date for the biennial election draws near. The councillors' heightened sensitivity was apparent at last Wednesday's meeting of County Council. The councillors heard a report from Sherborne, McClintock and Livingstone Reeve, and council's representative on the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce, Fred Baum, of a plan to prepare a series of questions to be asked of candidates seeking municipal office this November.

The councillors were unanimous in their disdain for the program and suggested the Chamber of Commerce would do well to keep its nose out of the municipal election scene and stick to promoting tourism. It was also suggested that some members of the Chamber's Board of Directors were using the questionnaire as a gambit to help their own candidacy in the election campaign.

What the members of the County Council have failed to realize is that the Chamber of Commerce is a body that represents a wide cross section of Haliburton's business community. While the membership is diverse, there are certain issues which retail merchants, tourist resort operators and logging companies share an interest in. The Chamber has every right to quiz candidates on behalf of their members to ascertain how those who are seeking office feel about matters that are directly related to the health of the local business climate.

Indeed, any group from the Women's Institute, to church organizations to the local tennis club, or any individual in the community, can and should be asking questions of those people who allow their names to stand for political office. It is not subversive or sneaky for any particular interest group to want to clarify a candidate's stand on an issue of specific importance to that group. It is rather a sign of a concerned electorate, the cornerstone of a strong democracy.

The suggestion that some members of the Board of Directors of the Chamber intend to use the questionnaire as a basis for their own municipal campaign is, to say the least, farfetched.

In the first place, any resident of the county who qualifies under the Ontario Municipal Act can seek and hold municipal office. There is no restriction as to the organizations to which the candidate may or may not belong. In fact, someone who has served the community in a voluntary position has already shown his interest in and willingness to work for the betterment of the community and would likely make an excellent candidate.

The Board of Directors of the Chamber consists of 12 members. They are charged with the overall operation of the chamber and we feel the majority would be adverse to any directors using their position on the board to further their outside political interests.

Rather than damning the Chamber's participation in the municipal election process the councillors should welcome their interest. The program outlined at Wednesday's meeting will result in heightened voter awareness and interest in the upcoming municipal vote, something the present Reeves and Deputy Reeves should be encouraging.

Letters

Once upon a time there was a lovely falls,
Foaming in majestic beauty.
'Til the kayak people got it in their heads
To change, it was their duty.
So they altered the course of the river,
And piled stones around the place.
I wonder what our fathers would think?
They would likely say, "A disgrace!"
But the council needed some money and Beauty was never their dish.
Now the quiet place is forever spoiled,
No matter what our wish.

The last blooms of summer

Ron Reid of the Federation of Ontario Naturalists

One of the earliest victims of our industrial society was the osprey, or fish hawk, which suffered drastic declines as a result of pesticide accumulation. As the residues of these chemicals reached higher and higher levels in the bodies of adult osprey, their rate of successful nesting dropped lower and lower, and eventually these graceful birds became an uncommon sight across most of their range.

Early historical records speak of colonies of thousands of these birds clustered close to productive bays and estuaries. What a sight that must have been, for even one of these fish-eating hawks is impressive, with its creamy-white head, heavy black stripe through the eye, and black elbow patches on the lower wing.

An osprey is usually seen over water, where it wheels and hovers in search of fish. When a likely prey is spotted, the osprey folds his wings and dives straight down, sometimes disappearing completely in a splash of water. His return skyward, with a heavy fish locked securely in his talons, is usually a slow struggle.

To make matters worse, osprey are often robbed by neighbouring bald eagles. As the osprey struggles with his fish, an eagle will repeatedly swoop and harass the smaller bird until the prize is dropped, then to be claimed by the eagle. Fortunately, osprey are such efficient fishermen that this age-old thievery appears to have little lasting effect.

By curbing the use of persistent pesticides such as DDT, we should be helping the osprey make a comeback. Now Ontario Hydro has also shown the softer side of its corporate heart, by actively giving a hand to the beleaguered osprey. Because the birds often choose hydro poles or towers as convenient nest sites, they occasionally create electrical problems and their nests were usually torn down. Now the nests are carefully examined and left where possible. If they must be removed, the nest is "packaged", and carefully relocated to a nearby tree or special nest pole. This program has met with success in several recent cases, giving both the local osprey population and Ontario Hydro's tarnished image a much-needed boost.

Work is almost always a pane at G Glass

"v" on the surface of the pane. "As the wheel is drawn over the glass," Merv explains, "it generates heat causing the molecules in the glass to separate at that point. That molecular separation and the score means the glass will be broken easily along that line." wheels which cut a wider "v" are used to score thicker glass while the sharper wheels are used on thin grades. He also pointed out that the cutter must be held at right angles to the glass surface. "If it is held on an angle, the glass will break along that line, at that angle."

An important aspect of their service is answering emergency calls. Sometimes in response to vandalism or storms they will be called out to remove shattered windows and replace the broken panes. "Glass that is broken but is still being held in place by the fame is the most dangerous," Hugh commented. "You never know which way the broken pieces will come out." The partners also are involved in design work, one of the challenging aspects of the business. "It is interesting to attempt to design windows," Tom commented. The two just completed a special window for the Haliburton Squash Club. The window had to be strong enough to withstand the possibility of being hit by a high speed squash ball, laminated so that if it did break the shards of glass would not fall on the players below, be clear enough that the spectators in the gallery could enjoy the game and provide a section that opened so officials in the spectating area could communicate with the players. The window, meeting all those requirements is to be installed this week.

Both Tom and Merv are pleased with their move to the Minden area. They are looking for growth in their business and a bright future that belies the fragility of their product.

STANHOPE NOTES

by A. F. Stevenson

Following discussion with incumbent members of Stanhope Township Council, we can report that all members, with the exception of Roger Woods, will be seeking re-election to the 1981/82 Council. It was with regret that we heard that Roger was forced to make this decision due to employment considerations, which, for some time in the immediate future, require his full attention.

We have previously mentioned Roger's usefulness on Council, and also to the committees on which he has served and it is our hope that Council will be able to induce Roger to serve on one or more committees after his term on Township Council is complete. It is very regrettable when a young man of Wood's calibre withdraws from the service of the Township but hopefully time will see a change on the demands made on Roger and the Township will benefit by his return to the council scene.

It is known that Reeve Jim Harrison will again seek the confidence of the electors at the November polls, and in our opinion he deserves that confidence for no other reason than that he has earned it. We hope to discuss the known candidates and their thoughts about the activities of Council during 1979/80, and also their impressions re the needs of the Township during the next two years.

Apart from the Council members who have made known their intentions re running again, we have no knowledge about other candidates other than a host of rumours which have to be disregarded until such time as the would-be candidates decide to come out of the woods and make known their intentions.

As of this moment the only ones taking the Township electors into consideration are, Reeve Harrison, Deputy Reeve Elgin Stouffer, Councilman Elvin Johnson, and Councilman Harry Davis. We do not pretend to any political wisdom, but the logic of being a last minute candidate misses us entirely in townships such as Stanhope.

Association executives await the opportunity to evaluate the potential candidates and be able to advise the very large percentage of seasonal residents as to a suitable slate for them to support. They need time to do this, and being coy will get few votes for those candidates late in declaring their intention. Those who have been working behind the scenes to build influential support would be favouring the electors if they put their names forward.

Stanhope hosted the meeting of the Zone Five Association of Municipal Clerk-Treasurers with about seventy clerk-treasurers from five counties being present. Our own excellent clerk-treasurer was honored by being made a director of the Association and it is our understanding that this is the first time that such an appointment has come to any Haliburton County municipal clerk.

Two other Stanhope citizens have returned home after an absence of several weeks, and we refer to Deputy Reeve Stouffer who has been away in Dominica, with other area men serving on a mutual aid program to assist the people to establish the lumbering industry, which had suffered as the consequence of a violent hurricane about two years ago, and also to Stanhope's artistic blacksmith Bob Davis who has returned from a lengthy trip in the arctic. We have not spoken to Bob, but we understand that this recent trip was a most trying one for the whole party due to storms and damage to equipment. Stanhope residents will have an opportunity to view a lengthy show of slides taken by Bob while on the trip and a collection will be taken to raise money for the Terry Fox fund. The date has yet to be announced.

Township Council meeting in September was shorter than usual and members of council were able to attend the hearing re establishment of railroad services to Haliburton. Among the items that were discussed was a letter from Hall's Lake referring to a complaint about raw sewage and pollution of the lake. However, since the letter was unsigned no action could be taken. It is expected that a petition will be submitted re the matter.

Stanhope Township also received notification that a Home Renewal grant of $40,000 had been made by the province, and since this is one of the Reeve's favourite projects, he was pleased with the amount of the grant. Also announced was a grant from the Ministry of Culture and Recreation in the amount of $1,000 towards the cost of the Hall's Lake swimming area. This again demonstrates the value of clerk treasurer Gerald Bain who is always on the job seeking means to ease the burden on the taxpayers in meeting the cost of desirable amenities.

that the building would provide an excellent stop-over point for passengers on the proposed steam excursion between Lindsay and Haliburton Village.

In other business from the meeting, the members of council met with Fred Watts and John Huke, representatives of the Four Mile Lake Association. The group expressed its concern about the lack of communications between the association and the council. The representatives commented on planned changes to the Somerville-Bexley official plan involving the use of land behind lake-shore property. The association requested that a number of changes be instituted to the plan. The council agreed to consider the request and the suggestion was forwarded to the county planner for his comments.

Roadside spraying questioned

Lutterworth Township office has been "inundated" with phone calls concerning dead brush along County Road 2, and county council last week discussed whether foliage-killing spray or brushing along county roads would be more practical.

Glynn Lewis, Lutterworth Deputy Reeve, told council that the road is "a ghastly sight" with dead brush along the shoulders as a result of last year's spraying by county road crews.

"On one or two occasions, this has been done indiscriminately," he said. "Next time spraying is done, perhaps we should let them (the public) know." Lewis also suggested that contracting local men to brush the roads may have been a better idea, since it would create jobs and avoid a mess which results from spraying.

Bill Obee, county roads engineer, said there was a four-year growth of brush along the road, so the decision was made to spray. He said in about another four years, crews will have to spray selectively only, which would not cause the unsightly dead brush problems.

"We're looking into a brush cutter than can be attached to a grader," said Obee, but the cost - $20,000 - is prohibitive. He added that because environmental groups are putting pressures on road crews to halt spraying, brushing would appear to be the best alternative.

The equipment purchase ment with opposition from councillor Elgin Stouffer, who felt contracting companies would be a better alternative. "There could be a lot of maintenance costs with this piece of equipment," he said.

However, John Francis, Deputy Reeve of Snowdon, felt hiring local unemployed people would be of more immediate benefit to the county.

Councillor Sinc Nesbitt disagreed, saying that "with these people, you get a lot of sit-down tools," people who wouldn't work as hard as contracted companies.

"If the townships can survive without spray," he said, "there's little need for the county to do it."

Obee said Ontario Hydro first cuts the brush, and then sprays the stumps so the trees do not grow back. This would be another approach to the county problem, he said.

Council took no action on the matter.

Health Unit searches for new Lindsay office

The Haliburton, Kawartha and Pine Ridge Health Unit headquarters in Lindsay is facing eviction due to zoning difficulties, and the organization is now searching for a new location.

Keith Tallman, county councillor and health unit committee member for Haliburton County, reported the situation to the September 17 meeting of county council.

Councillor Sinc Nesbitt said "we should encourage them to settle here" by making a comparable offer on the cost and rent of a building in Hali-burton County. Tallman disagreed, saying the headquarters must be central to all three counties. "We also provide over 30 jobs there," he added. "We shouldn't take them away."

Tallman added that the Unit has searched "every avenue possible" and it has been difficult locating a site or building that would support parking for up to 55 vehicles.

The size of the building should be about 9,000 square feet, he said.

Council briefs

Bits and bites from the September 17 meeting of Haliburton County Council.

The Ontario Treasurer, Frank Miller, has sent a letter to county council announcing that the Department of Regional Economic Expansion (DREE) will "consider Haliburton" as a recipient for the program.

A letter from Frank Miller expressed optimism about the possibility of obtaining DREE funding for the area.

Urge testing

A letter from the Mountain Lake Property Owners Association advised council that a resolution was passed at the regular meeting of the Association requesting that the county push the Ministry of Environment to proceed with a lake-liming testing program.

Council, the letter said, should not be subject to "regular bureaucratic delays and hold-ups" which they feel are associated with the Ministry's testing and sampling program.

County councillor Sinc Nesbitt agreed with the resolution and said council should consider putting additional "pressure" on the Ministry concerning lake testing.

Councillor Murray Fearrey suggested jokingly that "maybe the honorable member from Minden would like to donate the lake as a guinea pig." Nesbitt declined.

Money in general fund

Revenue generated from the sale of road allowances in Haliburton County cannot be used to purchase other allowances, the Minister of Housing told county council.

Council has previously inquired to the Minister as to the policy of such moves. To use the generated revenue for the purchase of allowances would be against the provisions of the Ontario Planning Act, Bennett said in a letter to council.

The county could, instead, keep the money in a general fund, to be used for the benefit of all ratepayers.

FOCA likes policy

The Federation of Ontario Cottagers' Association (FOCA) has no objections to Haliburton County's 66 foot marine allowance policy, it was announced at a county council meeting last Wednesday.

County councillor Murray Fearrey told council that the Federation "commended" council on the policy, agreeing with most points included in the plan.

At a meeting between the Federation and county council representatives, cottagers Jerry Strickland and Bert Shingler, both representing the Federation, said they agreed with the policy's points, mainly that monies incurred from allowance closures should be used for park purposes. They stated that they had no objections to any of the other points as outlined.

Lutterworth to monitor trailer use in township

Lutterworth Township plans to crack down on residents living in trailers in the municipality.

The decision to start enforcing the by-law which restricts the use of mobile trailers in the municipality was taken at the September 18 meeting.

According to Councillor Bill Prentice, the problem is one that exists all over the township. He said the township had been turning a "blind eye" to the situation and it was time the council ordered the by-law enforcement officer to put a stop to the situation.

Township Reeve Ron Gamble pointed out that residents are allowed to park trailers on their property if the units are not being lived in. However, he noted it was against the municipal by-laws for people to use trailers as a home or cottage.

The councillors agreed with Councillor Bill Valentine that those people who are building a cottage may wish to use a trailer while the structure is under construction. But Prentice pointed out that some individuals who sought permission from council for such consideration several years ago are still living in their trailers with little or no work having been carried out on the cottage or home.

Valentine said taxes on the lots where a trailer is being used as a home is based on a vacant lot formula. "We are losing a great deal of revenue," he commented.

It was also noted that the trailers being used as homes or cottages usually lacked proper septic systems. "This could create a serious health problem," Prentice said, "The Health Unit should be informed."

The council agreed that letters were to be sent to all owners of trailers in the township advising them of the provisions of the municipality's by-law and pointing out that it will be enforced in the future.

Minden W.I.

The first fall meeting of Minden Women's Institute was at the Orange Hall Sept. 17th with Mrs. Clare Brown presiding. After the usual opening, 20 members and 3 guests were present and some of the hostesses read verses. Pictures taken at the May meeting were passed around, and these go into the Tweedsmuir Book. The Card convenor reported sending 84 cards since the May meeting. Collection for cards and pennies for friendship were taken. The treasurer Mrs. Kernohan reported that $42.54 was turned in on the aprons.

The speaker of the afternoon was Faye Maddock from the Health Food Store-room. She told us the type of food we eat is what we are and we should introduce changes in food slowly, as whole wheat rather than white, brown rice rather than white. Steam vegetables in a small amount of water till tender and eat much less meat. Eat only when you're hungry and eat slowly. Several small meals rather than large ones are better for you, and do not eat raw vegetables and raw fruit at the same meal. A question period followed and she was thanked by convenor Jeanne Sears and presented with a small gift. Mrs. Sears had recipe booklets to give every one and also she had a new diet book which is for women.

There was some discussion on the bus trip. The meeting closed and a delicious lunch was served by the committee. The next meeting will be at the United Church Hall on Oct. 15.

Camp break-in

The opening of the duck hunting season this past weekend brought to light a break-in at an isolated hunt camp in Hindon Township. Two men, one from Bracebridge and the other from Dwight have been charged in the incident.

George L. Woodcox, 38, of Dwight and Robert A. Payne, 30, of Huntsville were seen in the vicinity of a hunt camp by MNR Conservation Officer Alex Millar and Deputy Conservation Officer Pat Lea. At the time the Conservation Officers noted that the window to the camp building was open. Completing an inspection of the building they detained the two accused and notified OPP Minden. The camp is the property of Stanley Einarson of Bracebridge.

According to police $50 worth of sleeping bags and cooking items had been removed from the building.

The pair have been charged with break, enter and theft.

Constable Al Barnes is conducting the investigation.

Lead stone thrown as sod is flipped

This week was one all the members of the Minden Curling Club have been waiting for, for many months. Construction began on the new curling facility, with the official turning of the sod by John Eakins, MPP and Sinclair Nesbitt, Reeve of Anson, Hindon and Minden, taking place Monday morning.

For many members, the new club was simply a "dream", but thanks to the efforts of Godfrey Saunders, the chairman of the building committee, this dream will soon be a reality. Godfrey refused to believe that any obstacle was too large to overcome, and he continued to persevere.

The builder, Ray Knight Construction of Orillia has promised that he will do his utmost to have the building ready for curlers by January. Unless we have an unusually cold fall, it looks as if there will be curling in early 1981. As the building progresses, both old and new members will be kept informed as to actual dates for curling. Watch the paper and your mail for further information.

The Haliburton Curling Club has very kindly offered ice time to any members of the Minden Club who wish to curl this Fall. For more information on this, please call Penny Obee 286-1242 or Linda Beachli 457-2973. (Report prepared by Penny Obee.)

Puck talk

Congratulations to Mr. Bentley, an 89 year old Toronto man, on his first trip to Minden. He is $306.00 richer today because he bought a 50/50 ticket, from Darrell Walker, on behalf of Minden minor Hockey. Jeff Howe won the draw for free registration.

Registration rates are now up to $30.00. We still have a few game sweaters out. Please get in touch with Neil Burk about the sweaters.

We have a season opener dance planned for November 1. D.J. will be Tommy Williamson. Hope to see you then.

Tina Hie received $25.00 for collecting the most pledges in our Skate-a-thon for which we made $320.00. We made $80.00 on our June Bake sale and $174.00 on our August Rummage sale. Our donation jars collected $41.80.

Times off base on team error

Forgive us Howard Cosell and humble sports fans of Minden!

When an irate member of the Minden Senior Ladies Softball team called us last Wednesday, we discovered (to our immediate horror) that we got the facts completely misconstrued about a story on the Haliburton County Ladies Softball league championship game.

We did however, get the score right. The trouble was, we stated Haliburton won the game over Minden, when, in fact, our own girls (Minden) took the championship. And the team they beat was, as everyone now probably already knows, West Guilford!

It was also pointed out to us that Wendy Gough, a member of the Minden team (not Haliburton) had a strong game at the PLATE, not on the mound, as was earlier mentioned.

Strong hitting by Marg Fielding and Wendy won timely points for Minden. Joan Paul, as was mentioned last week, hit a homerun for Minden (not Haliburton), and scored two runs. West Guilford had an uphill battle, but held Minden scoreless in the fifth inning. The team picked up three runs later in the game, Minden got two more in the sixth and the final three were scored by West Guilford. Andrea Burk pitched the win for Minden, while Joan MacKay took the loss.

At The Times office, we served up substantial portions of crow and humble pie. Please accept our apologies sports fans, and ladies of the Minden Seniors!

Car rolls - charges laid

A charge of failing to report an accident to the police has been laid against a Concord, Ontario man.

Michael Collis, 22, was charged by Constable Barry Connelly following an accident September 20 on County Road 1, (Vankoughnet Road)

According to police, Collis was travelling west on the road when he lost control of his vehicle just after crossing the Boshkung Lake bridge, and it rolled into the ditch on the south shoulder of the road. The vehicle came to rest on its side. Police said the accident occurred around 3 a.m. and was not reported to the police until 9 o'clock the same morning.

The vehicle sustained $2000 damage.

Hilltop collision

Burkes Road was the scene of a two vehicle collision Saturday afternoon. A car driven by 16 year old Paul Espie was travelling west on the road while Jeffery Hutchings, 18, also of Hali-burton was driving east. As the two cars crested a hill the collision occurred.

The Espie vehicle sustained $900 damage with the same amount of crumpling being reported to the Hutchings car.

Constable Boyd Jarvis was in charge of the investigation.

A flipped sport car in the ditch along County Road one resulted in a charge being laid by Minden OPP.

Report from Hall's Lake

by Louise Watson

The warm hospitality of the home of Bill and Althea Gartshore at Hall's Lake is well known to everyone in the vicinity. A week ago last Friday evening was no exception, when members of the Ladies Guild of St. Stephens Church, Boshkung, gathered at a surprise Dinner Party for Rev. David Barker, his wife Shirley, and their children, who will soon be leaving this Parish.

The table was beautifully set with fine English China and silverware, ruby goblets, and a centerpiece of red Gladiola blossoms in a low boat-shaped receptacle. It was a real picture, but unfortunately no one brought a camera.

The menu included fruit juices, cold cuts, salads, and vegetables fresh from Althea's garden - new potatoes garnished with parsley, squash, and new sweet corn on the cob. For dessert there were Ethel Harrison's famous lemon meringue tarts, blueberry pie, apple pie and pumpkin pie, with ice cream - the pies having been made by different members of the Guild.

After dinner, and a time of pleasant conversation, the table was cleared and some games arranged - "Aggravation" and "UNO" for example, which occasioned lots of laughs.

When the games were over, a beautiful hand-made quilt was presented to Shirley and David with the love and best wishes of the Guild Members for success in their new Parish at Washago. In making the presentation, Althea who is President of the Guild, and quite often organist at Church services as well, pointed to the high regard that members and friends have had for Rev. David Barker - not only for his inspiring ministry on Sundays, but also his down-to-earth understanding of the many troubles that beset us all at one time or another.

The evening concluded with the singing of the hymn "The Day Thou Gavest, Lord, is Ended..." and the reading of the 121st Psalm.

Altogether a most enjoyable evening of friendship and good fellowship.

Add Some Laughter
Do you think that life's cross is too heavy to bear?

That it's full of ill-fortune, trouble, and care?

Are you worried and fretful, always upset,

Sore at the world for the breaks you don't get?

The Lord up above never meant it that way.

Face life with a smile, have a good word to say,

Be friendly and helpful to all that you can.

You will find that you feel just like a new man;

With this world you must live, until your last day -

Let's add to its laughter; life's better that way.

Hi! Well, it wasn't too bad a weekend for the duck hunters, weather wise. Heard a lot of guns going off.

There was a 'Turkey Shoot' held by the Haliburton County Marksmen Club on Sunday, last, at their range on Bobcaygeon Road. There was a good turn out. Hats off to the members who ran the turkey shoot so smoothly and with safety in mind.

Mr. and Mrs. Ern Wright, of Ingoldsby, are home after camping for a week at Halfway Lake, just north of Sudbury.

Bill and Wendy Lacey and their daughter Dawn were up visiting for the weekend.

Clare Wright and his working buddy Randy, came up for the weekend to try their luck at duck hunting. They only got one duck.

Traffic was quite heavy Friday night, I guess it was because of duck season opening a week early up here.

Elsie and Tom Stead and his Aunt Jervina and her friend Mrs. Miles were up visiting Anne and Frank Dunsford. Jervina and Mrs. Miles are from Keighley, Yorkshire, England. They think Canada is a wonderful country.

Lee Oster was up to his cottage for the weekend. It is good to hear that Mrs. Mary Oster is up walking around even if it is with a walker.

CAS staff seek union

The staff of the Haliburton, Kawartha, Pine Ridge Children's Aid Society have applied to the Ontario Labour Relations Board for a charter to organize a union.

According to Meredith Amm, county council's Society's representative, the committee has appeared before the board and there seems "no doubt about" the granting of the charter.

Amm added that he thinks "it will be a good association between management and staff." He told council that he "has never seen" a staff as cooperative as those employed by the society.

The week of activities at Hyland Crest started with fun and fitness Monday morning. Esther Rowbottom was the winner at roll the ball and Viola Deumo won the dart game with a perfect score of 300. Later in the day the ladies went to the Craft room to work on their projects in preparation for the Christmas Bazaar coming up November 19. They enjoyed a cup of tea and cookies served after a busy afternoon.

Tuesday morning, Rev. John Smith of Haliburton Baptist Church held service in the Chapel. Agnes Taylor was here to play the organ for us and we would like to thank her for the lovely gladioli which certainly added beauty to our Chapel.

Wednesday was the beginning of Games Night which will be a weekly event. Mr. Bob Penfold and a group of students from the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School will be coming to assist the residents in a variety of card games, checkers, scrabble etc. The residents thoroughly enjoyed the evening of games and are looking forward to Games Night next week.

The ladies of Kinmount U.C.W. brought a delicious lunch for the Thursday afternoon tea party. they served a variety of sandwiches and squares. It was a very pleasant afternoon. Our residents always enjoy the good food prepared by the ladies of the various groups and organizations in Haliburton County.

It was a gorgeous day on Friday. We loaded the bus to full capacity and went for a drive up the Vankoughnet Road. The residents were mostly bed care patients. They really enjoyed the ride and also the delicious icecream cones which we purchased at Kawartha Dairy on our way home. It was a very nice way to end the week at Hyland Crest.
